Story Time Guidelines

- An important part of story time is interaction with your child. Please remain in the room with your child and model good behavior by listening and participating. Please note: children under 10 must not be left unattended in the children's room while their caretaker attends story time.
- The purpose of story time is to instill a love of language and reading. To that end, please don't worry if you feel your child is fidgeting or seems to not be paying attention during the program. All children learn differently.
- Don't be afraid to take a break. Some days children aren't in the right mood for story time. If a child becomes disruptive, please remove all the children in your care from the room and try again later.
- Story time shouldn't end when you leave the library. Take books home with you!
